

Field Exposure: As many as 30 students of department of History of Milagres College Kallianpur got a firsthand experience of working in the paddy fields as they planted paddy saplings in the slushy paddy fields at Chantar on 10th December 2022, Saturday. They took up the task of planting paddy saplings on seven paddy fields of about 1.6 acre at Balamakki, Chantar near Brahmavar. The College authorities have, for the last few years, been taking students for planting paddy saplings in the fields. Prof, Dr. Jayaram Shettigar, IQAC Coordinator and HOD of History department, Milagres College Kallianpur, said that the objective behind this initiative was to give students an exposure to agriculture. “We do not want students to learn only from books. They should participate in extra-curricular activities also. This exercise will give them an idea of agricultural activities,” he said.

All these made it a joyful outing for the students who loved every moment of it. After this exposure programme students are gave feedback on the programme is said they felt happy about this outreach programme conducted by the college and also learnt experiences through practically by cultivating paddy saplings in the field. Agriculturist Mr. Prashanth shared the information on cultivation of paddy saplings and guided the students.
