Interaction Session with Dr Jagadeesh Shetty

Q: Good morning, Professor Shetty, namaskara. Thank you very much for finding some time to talk to us. Being a History Professor, you are the right person to enlighten us by disclosing the history and the historical importance of Barkur. Hence, please share your hard earned, thoroughly researched, authentic and expert knowledge of the history of Barkur for the benefit of Barkur.com readers.

A: Thank you and thanks to Barkur.com for giving me this opportunity. 'Barkur' is more of a modern, and a shortened name. However, let me use Barakuru as most of us address it thus locally. I feel more comfortable to use Barakuru than Barkur!

Q: Yes sir, sorry to interrupt, The Barkur region is known for shortening the words like 'NanageHogabeku' to 'Hoik' and 'burk' for 'Bara Beku'; thusBaraakkanaooru became Barakuru, and then Barkur, I believe. Besides, just as the name shortened the glory and wealth of Barkur got smaller too. Sorry, please continue!

A: Barakuru is a very ancient place. Human settlement in Barakuru did start from pre-historic times. Dr. K. B. Shivatarak has discovered some Microlithic (small stone) remains in Barakuru. Late Dr. B. Vasanth Shetty brought to light some Neolithic (Later part of the stone age, during which man developed polished stone tools and weapons and raised domesticated cattle, etc.) remains in the surroundings of Barakuru, Dr. P. Gururaja Bhat, A. Sundara, B. Vasantha Shetty and myself have been able to discover some evidences of Megalithic (consisting of huge stones applied to ancient structures and monuments...)

In the historic period, Barakuru gained administrative importance, when it became the capital city under the Alupas in the 12th century A.D. It was also the main stream of political activity under the Hoysalas of Dwarasamudra. It was a provincial capital during the Vijayanagara rule. It continued to enjoy much political importance under the Keladi rulers. Subsequently it came under the control of Haider and Tippu. With the defeat of Tippu taking place in 1799 it became a part of the British Empire. (Remote areas were neglected then.) After independence like many other historical places it became a non-descript village. It's up to us to bring back the lost glory.

A few details may help in deciding the antiquity of Barakuru and its political and cultural importance. There are number of Alupa records in Barakuru which speak about their activities in this capital city. They had set up a mint here and issued gold coins. They took much interest in the development of the capital into an urban centre.

The Hoysalas were the first imperial power of Karnataka to establish their direct rule in Barakuru. Chikkayi-Thayi an Alupa princess who was given in marriage to Ballal III remained in Barakuru and exercised Hoysala authority on behalf of Ballala III. She remained here up to 1348 A.D. However it is interesting to note that the Alupas who were also continuing their rule during this time and the Vijayanagar rulers who had established their authority over Tulunadu, maintained very cordial relations with each other. However there is no such mention about each other in their respective records. Vijayanagara hegemony was established here right from the birth of the empire. Barakururajya was ruled by a Governor under Vijayanagara and Keladi rulers. More than 80 Governors served here. The Governor administered with the help of "Kattaleyavaru".

Milagres College has completed 50 years of its commitment to the cause of education. It has marched a long way towards achievement of its educational mission. The journey was hard but challenging. Though some of the present educational policies are detrimental to higher education, our enthusiasm in imparting quality education has not deterred. We cherish the contentment of imparting value based education to all the students who have studied in this institution, guided by our Patron Our Lady of Miracles.

Over the years, Milagres College Kallianpur trained thousands of young men and women, preparing them for life and presenting them to the nation. We feel happy to serve you. We believe that a student grows in a healthy environment. Our task is to create an environment where student can build an integral personality with an all-round development of intellectual, physical, moral, spiritual and social faculties. By making best use of the opportunities provided, you can find the education imparted here, a meaningful one.

The purpose of the seminar: this Seminar has two-fold purpose. 1, To make IQAC catalytic improvement in the overall performance of institutions, 2. to have a better understanding of NAAC New Methodology of assessment and accreditation with an indepth understanding of Seven Criteria.

IQAC: Since quality enhancement is a continuous process, the IQAC will become a part of the institution's system and work towards realization of the goals of quality enhancement and sustenance. The prime task of the IQAC is to develop a system for conscious, consistent and catalytic improvement in the overall performance of institutions. For this, during the post-accreditation period, it will channelize all efforts and measures of the institution towards promoting its holistic academic excellence. It acts as a dynamic system for quality changes in HEIs. Provide a sound basis for decision-making to improve institutional functioning and it shall evolve mechanisms and procedures for ensuring timely, efficient and progressive performance of academic, administrative and financial tasks and . Optimization and integration of modern methods of teaching and learning.

The work of the IQAC is the first step towards internalization and institutionalization of quality enhancement initiatives. It will be a facilitative and participative voluntary system/unit/organ of the institution. It has the potential to become a vehicle for ushering in quality enhancement by working out planned interventionist strategies to remove deficiencies and enhance quality.

Ensure enhancement and coordination among various activities of the institution and institutionalize all good practices. Provide a sound basis for decision-making to improve institutional functioning. Act as a dynamic system for quality changes in HEIs. To develop a system for conscious, consistent and catalytic action to improve the academic and administrative performance of the institution.

NAAC New Methodology: National Assessment and Accreditation Council. (NAAC) has continuously strived to improve its methodology Taking cognizance of changing trends in higher education and aligning the reforms and rapidly transforming global education scenario, NAAC has embarked in revising the Assessment and Accreditation (A&A) methodology.

The revised framework developed in partnership with stakeholders have a distinct focus on data capture for quantitative assessment and process details for qualitative assessment and is an effort to make the A&A process more robust , objective, transparent, outcome oriented and stake holder friendly. .

NAAC has changed the evaluation method of educational institutions including recording the data of universities and colleges online. This will also reduce human interference in the assessment process of educational institutes. In the new system a major chunk of the data about an educational institute will be captured online, a team of assessors would still visit the institutions.

With a view to make the assessment and accreditation process more rigorous and its outcome more credible, the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) will introduce a new methodology of assessment .The new methodology of Institutional Assessment and Accreditation of NAAC had been designed to overcome some of the limitations of its earlier methodology. The user-friendly new methodology envisaged significant reduction in inter-team assessment variations and was expected to enable NAAC to assess a large number of institutions effectively in a short period. Registration: Principals, IQAC Co-Ordinator, Teachers, and Stakeholders are invited to participate in the seminar. The Registration Fee is Rs. 200. Registration fee may be paid through DD/cheque drawn in favor of The Principal, Milagres College Kallianpur.

2. One day Faculty Development programme- Walking With teenagers:

One day staff training programme on the topic walking with teenagers was organised on 18th March 2020. Mr. Oliver NSutari was the Resource person. The members of teaching and administrative staff participated in the programme. He said that the important thing to remember is keeping them engaged, and connected. Since teenagers are in the life-stage of trying to find their place in life, let them have the say on where the family goes on their walks. It may not be ideal to you, but if keeping them interested in that bonding time is important sometimes, we, as adults have to hand over the reins once-in-a-while. Bring them on a nature walk or play some sort of guessing game. A great game to play. This game requires you choose an object, might be a car, bird plane, or any object. Next clues must be asked to guess the object, clues such as color, size, shape, etc. The harder the object to guess and the longer into your walk you will be.

3. One day Faculty Development programme- Counselling Techniques Through Role Play:

One day staff training programme on the topic Counselling Techniques Through Role Play was organized on 25th May 2020. Mr. Oliver NSutari was the resource Resource person. The members of teaching and administrative staff participated in the programme. He said Therapeutic role-playing is a technique that allows a person with a phobia to practice new behaviors. In a role-playing session, the therapist takes the identity of someone that the person is afraid to confront, such as a parent or employer. Before implementing this technique, it is helpful for professional counselors to understand the three phases found within role plays. The first element is called the encounter, which in this situation means being able to understand the perspective of another person. The second element, the stage, is space with simple props that can provide a realistic experience. The third aspect, is another term that professional counselors must know; it is a speech in which the client expresses her private thoughts and associated feelings. The last element, doubling, leads to increased awareness on the part of the client and occurs when the professional counselor or another group member stands behind the client while the client is acting out the scene.

4. International Yoga Day:

Yoga is an ancient art of India that refreshes the mind and soothes the soul. The idea of International Yoga Day was first proposed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on September 27, 2014, during his speech at the UN General Assembly, where a resolution to establish June 21 as International Yoga Day was introduced. The date of June 21 was chosen as it is the Summer Solstice, the day where there is the most sun out of every other day of the year. When millions of people around the world are all set to take out their yoga mats and start exercising, the staff and students of Milagres college were also joined. As per the order of the Department of Collegiate Education Government of Karnataka, IQAC has organized international yoga day on 21st June 2021. 337 students and staff have participated in the programme
