We started travelling from the college campus at 9:45 A.M. via bus along with our co-ordinators faculties. We reached to the Udaya Group of Industries premises at Manipal withinhalf an hour. At the very beginning of our visit we met Mr. HemanthDevadiga at theentrance of the main-gate who was the incharge of the Industry. We were divided into twogroups.Andaccordinglyweweresent in to knowmoreabouttheindustry.

Each workers had their own departments. Few dealt in making lids, screws, plates, pans, cooker etc. Once these processes were done they were sent for cooling process.

In this process, the incharge were only womens. We got many more information of how the process was done, and also the process of magic pot vessel. To get the vessels in a proper shape, 100 tons deep drawing press machines were used.

And the remaining wastes of aluminium and steels were used to prepare handles for all the vessels.

After attending the Udaya Kitchenext, we went to another branch of the same industry which was 10 minutes away named BB Aluminium Products.

Here we got to know the process of preparing the steels by melting the large plates into liquid form to make sheets in different shapes.

Later on, we got to know about Annealing process where they keep the large thick sheets of aluminium in the heater and keep the fire till it reduces the hardness to make it more workable. This process is done for the whole day, without touching.

Conclusion:

This industrial visit gave a lot of information about various aspects of production, marketing as well as the operation of a company. The staffs were very helpful to make us understand every part of the industry.

Milk Processing: Milk constituents are divided mainly into three groups namely—fat soluble, water soluble, solid-not-fat (SNF). The relative ease with which milk can be converted into a wide variety of products makes it extremely useful base material. In some cases, milk undergoes relatively limited processing, consisting of heat treatment to increase the bacterial shelf life of the product and homogenization to increase the physical shelf life through fat separation.

The cooling process of the milk is done below 4°C to suppress the bacterial activity, so that the shelf life is extended up to 12-18 hours and facilitates further processing of the milk. Milk is chilled by passing through the plate chiller, milk and cold water is passed in countercurrent manner resulting in the cooling of milk and stored in silos.

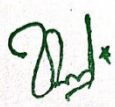

Conclusion:

DKMU Ltd has adapted modern quality control measures and techniques in the dairy. Several biochemical and microbial of milk products is carried out for the assurance of quality of day to day sample. Acidity test, turbidity test, moisture test, clot on boiling test, adulteration test, lactometer reading and microbial analysis. Along with these the packing material are also controlled the timing of the processing and analysis along with the results are noted down in records.

Mr. KPSucharithaShetty the President of KMF, Mangalore spoke to us regarding the same. And encouraged all of us by stating that we need to build and grow the agricultural sectors in future.

INDUSTRIAL VISIT TO NANDINI DAIRY

Learning objectives:

To understand the processing of various milk and milk products.

Process:

On Friday, 15th of July 2022, almost 40 students of final BCom along with 4 lecturers participated in the industrial visit organized by our college. Our first destination was Udaya Kitchen located in Manipal where we saw the manufacturing and packaging of aluminium kitchenware. It was an interesting and informative process. Our next destination was Karnataka Milk Federation in Mangalore. Here is a brief report on our findings:

The Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) is a dairy cooperative from Karnataka, India, which sells products such as milk, curd, ghee, butter, ice cream, paneer and sweets under the brand name Nandini. It is a federation of milk producers under the ownership of Ministry of Cooperation, Government of Karnataka. Almost every district in state of Karnataka has milk producing co-operatives. The milk is collected from farmers who are its members, processed and sold in the market by the brand of Nandini.

KMF is a bridge between farmers from rural areas. There are 15 unions all over Karnataka. Mr. Abhishek guided us through our tour around the dairy whilst providing necessary information. The journey of Nandini milk begins when milk is collected from rural areas, coming under the BMCC, in large tankers which are then dropped off at KMF Mangalore. The milk is thoroughly tested in the labs to indicate whether it will coagulate on thermal processing. It is then supplied through pipes into big tanks where it goes through a process called standardisation. Standardisation of milk refers to the raising and lowering of the milk fat and solids, not fat content of milk, to prepare different varieties of milk. The standardised milk is then sent to packaging unit where it is packaged in different packs based on the fat content.

The milk is divided into various pipelines where it reaches other units to produce the related milk products. Curd is prepared by fermenting the milk under right conditions and packaged immediately to retain freshness. The process for culturing lassi is the same with addition of sugar and a spice blend in case of buttermilk. In a different unit ghee and butter are prepared using large vessels to hold the mixture for clarification. Ghee is one of their premium product that is sealed with freshness for It is then put in containers of various sizes and labelled. Butter is churned with 85% fat upto 80° C and frozen in various sizes. Another unit shows the process of production of different sweets produced. It was explained to us that milk with a fat content of 4.5% is preheated to a certain temperature and then boiled thoroughly before adding sugar, ghee and various natural flavourings to it. It is then cooled down, shaped and packaged differently according to the type of dessert. In the same place was produced khova and their only chocolate product called Nandini bite. The interesting thing about this unit was that there were only lady workers doing everything.

A short list of all the products available under Nandini are briefly listed below:

1. Milk:

- Toned milk (1.5% fat content)
- Pasteurised (2% fat content)
- Full fat (3.5% fat content)
- Truhti (UHT treated for shelf life of 3 months)

2. Curd

3. Buttermilk

4. Lassi

5. Flavoured milk

Available in glass and PET bottles in 5 different flavours

- Badam
- Pista
- Rose
- Elaichi
- Banana

6. Khova

7. Fresh cream

8. Paneer

9. Butter

10. Sweets

- Peda
- Mysorepak
- Cashewbarfi
- Godhiladoo
- Nandinibite
- Cookies

Mr. Abhishek also gave us information on what is done when there is excess of milk. He told us that the excess milk is transported to a different factory where it is dried and made into milk powder. The milk powder is made in such a way that it retains all the nutrients that are present in fresh milk. It is generally used in schools, military camps and other places to provide people with same nutrients that fresh milk would provide with convenience.

It was explained that whenever there is an excess in the milk supply with no significant increase in the demand for it, the milk gets transported to another location where it is solidified and made into a powder. This excess is generally said to occur in the monsoon seasons when cows lactate more than normal and there is no increase in demand for fresh milk or milk products.

On our way out, they treated us with refreshing cold lassis. Then we got to speak to the president, , who talked to us about the growing milk sectors and the vast amount of opportunities available in it. He also wished us good luck for our futures. It was indeed a great opportunity for everyone to learn and observe the origination of a regular household item.

Conclusion:

This industrial visit gave us a lot of information about the various aspects of production, marketing as well as operation of the dairy. It is also concluded that Nandini is the first preference of both customers and retailers because of its brand image and price. Industrial visits provide students with a chance to meet industry leaders, professionals, and corporates who share their wi

Udupi: Milagres College, Kallianpur organizes University level Seminar on Phonetics & Linguistics

Udupi, 21 Jul 2022: Milagres College, Kallianpur, always remained a favorite venue for various Inter-collegiate, University, National and even International level Seminars in the past. To continue with the tradition and convenience, the Association of English Teachers, (AET – MU), the department of English, headed by none other than the principal of Milagres College, Dr Vincent Alva and his colleagues, and IQAC team led by its coordinator Dr Jayaram Shettigar, jointly organized a University level workshop/Symposium on 'Basics of Phonetics & Linguistics,' at their audio-visual auditorium, here on Wednesday 20.

As the registration was open at 9.00am both for scholars, teachers and selected interested students from the various Colleges, both from far and near enthusiastically participated in the one day proceedings and deliberations.

A formal Inauguration ceremony was held at 10.00 am, with invoking Almighty Lord's blessings, 'aa banali minuguva taregallu, ninna pritiya haradutive' by the students of II B Com, B, followed by a warm welcome address by convener of the event, Prof Chandrika, department of English, the host MCK in the august presence of the resource persons in learned Dr Alwyn D'Sa, registrar, St Aloysius College (Autonomous), Mangaluru, Dr Prasad Rao, principal, Government First Grade College, Hebri, Dr Victor Vaz, president – AET, Sojan George, secretary – AET.

Dr Vincent Alva, principal, Milagres College, Kallianpur, presided the function, the guest of honor Dr Leo Alva, former principal and now administrator of A Grade School, with Dufferin Peel District School Board Canada - Dr Jayaram Shettigar, IQAC coordinator and Prof Chandrika, convener for the seminar and others were present on the dais.

Chaitrali of the Milagres College, Kallianpur gave a perfect start with her well prepared keynote address, outlined the need and significance of such workshops, 'which is a platform to share and interact, different viewpoints.....the language is a 'medium of communication' to keep the people connected and English being the international had its own evolution and progress' as she continued with explaining how the British and American English differ in accent /pronunciation and even in spellings with examples... She said, "we in India, influenced by both the streams and more than that our local languages too have their impact on it..."

Dr Leo Alva, while expressing his happiness to be a part of this seminar, shared his feelings – Language not just a means of communication but it's the door to understand world culture as a whole, it unites people....while sharing his lifetime experiences, 'learning to imitate the accent at times style of the people around the place where you are, will always necessary and help to both survive and establish in life.....'

In his presidential address, Dr Vincent Alva, referred to the inaugural keynote address by Chaitrali, a student of I B Sc and appreciated the organizers for towing a different line by choosing her for this rare feat and delivering a perfect message on this occasion.

At the backdrop of NEP, 'the role of language or as medium of instruction gained importance, as it is in these days activity based, that too focusing and discussing on the international language English, phonetics and Linguistics - expressed his happiness, hope and confidence as the participants, teachers and Students will immensely benefited out it....'

To conclude the glittering inaugural programme, Prof Caesar Gonsalves, Dept of English, proposed vote of thanks to all who are part of and contributed for having such a resourceful workshop in the Milagres College.

The much-awaited Technical Session I, was started at 10.30am by Dr Alwyn DSa, on Basics of Phonetics & Phonology. A brief introduction of the resource person was given by Prof Prathima, Dept of English.

It was an educational session filled with hilarious moments of life time experiences. Phonetics just understanding sounds and primacy today lies in speaking than writing, he opined. As teachers and students are partners or collaborators in learning it must be a two way inter-exchange of views.....deviating from age old learning practice of more writing than speaking in the classrooms and advised to switch over – speak first then write....."

After the lunch break Second Session II, was conducted by Dr Prasad Rao on linguistics, as he focused on Morphology, Syntax, Semantics, lexicons etc was well received by the participants. A glimpse of the personality of Dr Rao was presented by Prof Caesar Gonsalves, Dept of English. While concluding the highly insightful presentation, Dr Rao informed, 'we understand the world through words'.

In the beginning arrangements were in place to serve breakfast to all the participants and Lunch and evening Tea and snacks too was organized by the host, Milagres College.

Associate Professor, department of English, Pompei College, Aikala, Dr Victor Vaz, now the president of Association of English Teachers, (AET-MU) Mangalore University, had high praises and appreciation to the organizers, the Milagres College Team, led by Dr Vincent Alva, the learned resource persons, Dr Alwyn DSa and Dr Prasad Rao, and all who worked behind the screen directly or indirectly to make the workshop very useful and a great success.

The whole event aptly compered by talented Anouska, III BA, with her lively presentations and meticulously arranged by the Team MCK, comprising, Prof Caesar, Prof Prathima and student leaders, volunteers and participants.

About 75 participants both teachers and students, actively took part in the full day symposium and thoroughly enjoyed and benefited.

Principal Dr Vincent Alva, shared his feelings with a call to students and teachers to 'practice simple yogasana's everyday, which will definitely keep all of us fit and fine'.

Yoga Guru, in his address reminded the gathering that "Yoga is a gift of our ancestors having a history of more than 2500 years as records state it was taught and practiced in ancient Takshashila and Nalanda heritage Universities. Let us reap the best outcome by cultivating daily habit of dedicating few minutes every day, for our own good. This will help us to concentrate in studies, control body and mind and fill the surrounding with positive energy...." he explained.

Dr. Prakash Anil Castelino, HOD, Dept of Chemistry & the Coordinator of this 'Inter-Collegiate Science Fest'. "Mr. Mascarenhas hailing from Kolalgiri, presently Vice Principal & HOD- Dr. TMA Pai Polytechnic Manipal, is a proud alumna of Milagres Junior College in 2011, who passed out his PUC in Science stream in flying colours. Then on no looking back, but climbing the ladder of success as a teacher, youngest resource person and a trainer....." 'No doubt in company with such a young and energetic person this day undoubtedly relaxing, joyful and fruitful.....' Fr Castelino concluded and once again wished on behalf of the all Staff & Students - Science Department, the whole day event to be both memorable and joyful to all gathered.....!

True to the expectations of the young students, Mr. Derik Mascarenhas spoke in length about various subjects, well received by the delegates. 'Days of learning to score well and secure life are gone....Time is more than ripe to convert knowledge into a skill.....' he gave various examples of how Science, statistics, Commerce, Environment science etc. are inter- related. The knowledge world is taking swift shifts as till recent years it was 'e' which was the prefix for all modern technologies....like, e-commerce, e-Banking, e-insurance....as digitalization was incorporated.....today it's the term 'Green' is highlighted in every branch of learning, signifying the role of environment in a Global village, he explained. 'All knowledge streams are complementary to each other and insisted students is critical in thinking, clarifying doubts and developing a culture of questioning. As the great man's blessings are always here for this temple of learning, with well-equipped laboratories, library, etc. as the delegates are enlightened and ignited by the distinguished speakers especially Mr. Derrick Mascarenhas, who endorsed his call for inculcating Scientific temper, as the days are influenced by media to inject the belief that mythology is history and fiction is science, which is dangerous, he opined. To conclude the speech Fr Mendonca remembered his classmate in Rev Fr Robert Pinto's short poem / couplet – "My dear, Come near, Don't fear, I am here" to encourage young students of Science gathered here to go-ahead with research with social responsibility and appreciated the efforts of Science Association and IQAC for organizing this event.

Milagres College: Vidyarthi Darbar, an interactive session with Suresh Shetty (Soori)

January 27, Kallianpur: Milagres College Kallianpur in association with Vidyarthi Darbar organised an interactive session on 27 January. Mr Suresh Shetty (Soori) a social activist was the resource person of the programme.

During the session he said, “Social work is the work done by the people around us without any reward. They believe in ‘Jana seve ye Janardhana seve’ which means social service is superior to the worship of God. National leaders like Mahatma Gandhi and Dr Ambedkar had rendered selfless service for the wellbeing of subalterns. But everyone can not rise to their level instead we can do better in our own way”.

The program was presided over by the Principal Dr Vincent Alva. IQAC Co-ordinator Dr Jayaram Shettigar, convener of the program Dr Nityananda Shetty and co-convener Miss Prathima were present during the occasion.
